Faithful Friar's Report – Father Joe Piskura

One of my favorite vocalists of all time was Lena Horne. She made a classic recording of the song, "Stormy Weather." About the same time, another song came out by the Mills Brothers in which they sang, "Into each life some rain must fall." From all this you can see how old I am.

As we grow older, we cannot help but be buffeted by the storms that life sometimes sends our way. They usually come unexpectedly and they sometimes seem to overwhelm us. When worries, tragedies and heart break come into our lives, when these storms come into the lives of our friends and loved ones, how do we react? At times such as these do we turn to Christ? Do we quickly turn to Him and feel His Presence? Do we remember His promise that He is always with us in good times and in bad?

As followers of Christ do we reach out to others when storms come into their lives? When my friends and loved ones try to help me, am I ever too proud to accept their help?

And maybe the most serious question of all ... am I the cause of any storms that may come into the lives of others?

All our actions have consequences. What I say or do can help make life better for someone. But I can also inflict hurt and pain. Have I caused or am I causing storms in someone's life?

"Stormy Weather" ... "Into each life some rain must fall"

Our Lord calmed a raging sea. He can calm the storms in our lives and help us calm the storms that others may be experiencing. Christ promised us this. May we never forget His promise.
